1. STUDENT SERVICES AND AMENITIES FEES

1.1 What is a student services and amenities fee?

This is a fee that providers can charge their students for student services and amenities of a non-academic nature, such as sporting and recreational activities, employment and career advice, child care, financial advice and food services.

1.2 What can providers spend the fee on?

Your provider can only spend the fee on allowable services and amenities such as sporting and recreational activities, employment and career advice, child care, financial advice and food services.

Your provider cannot spend the fee to support:

- a political party; or
- the election of a person to a Commonwealth, State or Territory, or local government body.

Your provider must not require you to become a member of a student organisation.

1.3 Which fee applies to me?

The maximum student services and amenities fee that a provider can charge a full-time student in 2012 is $263. However, providers can choose to charge different groups of students a different amount of fee, e.g. on-campus students and off-campus students may be charged different amounts.

If your provider has multiple fees and you are subject to more than one fee, you cannot be charged more than $263 for this calendar year. Contact your provider to find out the fee which will apply to you.
1.4  When do I need to pay the fee by?
You should pay the fee or submit your Request for SA-HELP assistance form by the date advised by your provider.

1.5  If I transfer to a new provider or I am enrolled with two providers can I be required to pay the fee twice?
Yes. The Guidelines do not prevent providers from charging each student enrolled with them the student services and amenities fee, regardless of whether that student has paid a fee to another provider for the same period.
2. SA-HELP ASSISTANCE

2.1 What is SA-HELP?

SA-HELP is a loan scheme that assists eligible students to pay their student services and amenities fee. Eligible students can choose to defer all or part of their fee for the relevant year.

2.2 Am I eligible for a SA-HELP loan?

To receive a SA-HELP loan, you need to:

- be an Australian citizen or hold a permanent humanitarian visa;
- be enrolled in a course of study with a provider;
- meet the tax file number (TFN) requirements by giving your provider either your TFN or a Certificate of application for a tax file number from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) as proof that you have applied for a TFN (you can obtain this document from the ATO—see Contacts for more details); and
- have lodged your Request for SA-HELP assistance form by the date advised by your provider.

TFNs are usually provided within 28 days of application so it is essential that you apply early to ensure you have your TFN on or before the day on which the fee is payable.

2.3 When is the last day for submitting a Request for SA-HELP assistance form?

Students who wish to access Government assistance to defer their student services and amenities fee should complete, sign and return the Request for SA-HELP assistance form to their provider by the date advised by their provider. If this form is not submitted by the day on which the fee is payable, you will not be entitled to a SA-HELP loan.
2.4 Do I need to re-apply for SA-HELP each year?

Students will only need to apply once for a course of study at a provider. If a student changes courses, or changes provider, the student will need to re-apply for SA-HELP.

2.5 Can I take out a SA-HELP loan even if I don’t have a HECS-HELP loan?

Yes, provided you meet the eligibility criteria.

2.6 Is there a loan fee for SA-HELP?

No.

2.7 If I withdraw from my provider after the day on which the fee is payable, will I still have a SA-HELP debt?

Yes. Your provider is not able to remove your SA-HELP debt once it is incurred.

Contact your provider for more information about whether they have a refund policy in place.
3. KEEPING TRACK OF YOUR SA-HELP DEBT

3.1 The Commonwealth Higher Education Student Support Number (CHESSN)

This is a unique identifier issued to every student accessing Commonwealth assistance for higher education, i.e. using a HELP loan. Your CHESSN is allocated to you by your provider or your tertiary admissions centre when you first apply to go to university.

3.2 Your Commonwealth Assistance Notice (CAN)

If you request a SA-HELP loan, your provider is required to issue you with a CAN within 28 days of the day on which the fee is payable. Your provider can include other HELP loans you have received with this notice too. If there are any discrepancies between your SA-HELP debt and the amount you were expecting to pay, you have 14 days from the date of your CAN to request a correction in writing.

3.3 Keeping track of your debt

You can phone the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) to get your accumulated HELP debt account balance or to request a statement. Your statement is sent to your latest home address shown on ATO records or, if the ATO doesn’t have your home address, to the postal address on your latest income tax return.

To protect the privacy of your information, the ATO needs to verify your identity before it can give details of your account to you over the phone. They will ask for details only you or someone you’ve authorised would know. An authorised person is someone who you’ve previously told the ATO can act on your behalf.
4. REPAYMENT OF YOUR HELP DEBT

4.1 When do I start repaying my HELP debt?

You will start repaying your accumulated HELP debt when your repayment income is above the minimum compulsory repayment threshold. The threshold is adjusted each income year. For the 2011–2012 income year the threshold is $47,195 (see Table 1).

Your accumulated HELP debt is indexed on 1 June each year in line with the changes in the cost of living as measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI). Debts are not indexed until they are 11 months old.

Compulsory repayments continue until you have repaid your whole debt. The amount you repay each year is a percentage of your repayment income. The percentage increases as your income increases.

The Australian Taxation Office (ATO) works out your repayment income from the amounts given on your income tax return for:

• your taxable income;
• reportable fringe benefits (reported on your payment summary);
• total net investment losses (which includes net rental losses);
• reportable super contributions; and
• exempt foreign employment income.

For more information on this, contact the ATO (see Contacts).

No compulsory repayment required because of low family income

If your family income is low enough to entitle you to a reduction of the Medicare levy or you do not have to pay the Medicare levy, you will not have to make a compulsory HELP repayment for that year.

4.2 Repayments from job, benefit or superannuation income

If you earn income from a job, benefit, compensation payments or superannuation, your employer or other payer may withhold amounts from your income to cover your compulsory HELP debt repayments.

You need to advise your payer if you have an accumulated HELP debt on a Tax file number (TFN) declaration or Withholding declaration form. If you do have a HELP debt, your payer has to withhold additional amounts from your income once you earn over the minimum repayment threshold.

The additional withheld amounts are to cover any compulsory HELP repayment you may have to make for the year. They are not credited to your HELP account, but form part of the ‘total tax withheld’ shown on your annual PAYG payment summary and on your income tax notice of assessment at ‘PAYG credits and other entitlements’. Your compulsory repayment will not be calculated until your income tax return for that year is processed. If you had too much withheld during the year and you have no other outstanding debts, the ATO will refund the excess to you.

Payments from more than one payer
If you earn more than the repayment threshold for a financial year from all your jobs, a compulsory repayment may be included on your next notice of assessment.

You can ask one or more of your payers to withhold additional amounts to cover any compulsory repayment. To do this, complete a Withholding declaration – upwards variation form (available from the ATO).

Holiday or temporary jobs
If you have a holiday or temporary job and you earn over the weekly minimum repayment threshold but your income for the whole income year is not above the annual minimum repayment threshold, you can apply to the ATO to get your payer to stop withholding additional amounts for your HELP debt. You will need to submit a PAYG withholding variation application form (available from the ATO). You can also lodge your application electronically at www.ato.gov.au.

4.3 Repayments from business or investment income
If you use the PAYG instalments system to make payments towards your expected tax liability on your business and investment income for the current financial year, the ATO will notify you of an instalment amount that takes into account any accumulated HELP debt.
4.4 What if I disagree with my compulsory repayment?

If you think the compulsory repayment shown on your income tax notice of assessment is wrong, check the details against your tax return. If you still think there is a problem, phone the ATO. When you phone, have your notice of assessment and, if possible, a copy of your income tax return with you.

If, after speaking to the ATO you still believe your compulsory repayment is incorrect, you may request an amendment or lodge an objection. For information on how to do this, contact the ATO.

4.5 Deferring a compulsory repayment

If you believe that making your compulsory repayment would cause you serious hardship or that there are other special reasons why you believe that you should not make a compulsory repayment, you may apply to the ATO to have that amount deferred. To do this you need to complete the form Deferring your compulsory HELP, HECS or Financial Supplement repayment (available from www.ato.gov.au). There are time limits for applying to defer a compulsory repayment.

The ATO will write to say whether your application is successful. If you are unhappy with the decision, you may apply (within 28 days after the day you receive notice of the decision) to have it reviewed. If, after the review you, still believe the ATO has made the wrong decision, you may then apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) for a review. You need to lodge your application with the AAT within 28 days after the day you receive the letter advising you of the outcome of the review.

For more information on applying to defer a compulsory repayment, including time limits, contact the ATO.
4.6 Voluntary repayments

You can make a voluntary repayment to the ATO at any time and for any amount. Making a voluntary repayment reduces your debt immediately. Voluntary repayments are in addition to compulsory repayments. They are not refundable.

There are several ways you can make a voluntary repayment, including by BPAY, direct credit, direct debit, credit card, mail, or in person at an Australia Post outlet. For more information on making a voluntary repayment, contact the ATO.

4.7 Voluntary repayment bonus

If you make a voluntary repayment of $500 or more, you will receive a bonus of 10%. This means your account will be credited with an additional 10% of your payment. The bonus is 10% of the payment that you make, not 10% of the outstanding debt. You will not receive a bonus on repayment amounts that are more than the balance of your account. If you pay off your entire debt with a voluntary repayment, you are entitled to the bonus. However, if you have any HELP debts that have not been reported to the ATO at the time of the payment, the bonus may be reversed or adjusted once those debts are transferred to your account.

Changes to the HELP bonus for voluntary repayments

The Australian Government has announced a reduction in the HELP bonus for voluntary repayments. Subject to the passage of legislation, from 1 January 2012 the bonus will reduce from 10% to 5% for repayments that either pay your debt off entirely or are $500 or more.

Refer to www.goingtouni.gov.au for up-to-date information on the status of this legislation.
4.8 Are voluntary repayments tax deductible?
Voluntary repayments made by you or someone other than your payer are not tax deductible. Your payer may be able to claim a tax deduction for voluntary repayments it makes on your behalf but it may also be liable for fringe benefits tax on the repayments.

4.9 Death
Your estate has to pay any outstanding compulsory repayment relating to the period before your death, but the remainder of your accumulated HELP debt is cancelled.

4.10 Bankruptcy
You still have to pay your accumulated HELP debt as if you had not been declared bankrupt.
