Multi-disciplinary learning in an applied research environment

Disturbances in the inner ear affect the regulation of blood pressure, particularly heightened during motion sickness.

Building motion causes low-dose motion sickness making occupants unmotivated and unproductive.

Building motion affects postural stability and fine motor skill.