Have you sorted your accommodation?
One of the important decisions you need to make is about the kind of accommodation in which you wish to live while you are studying at UWS.

On-campus accommodation
UWS offers a wide range of quality, fully furnished accommodation on each of its six campuses. Want your own space? Choose a one-bedroom apartment. Looking to meet new people? Choose a shared townhouse or villa! Room types vary on each campus, but chances are we’ll have something for you whether you’re looking to live in style or work to a budget.

Find out more about living on campus and book online at www.uwsvillage.com.au

Have questions?
Give us a call at +61 2 9772 6575.

Temporary accommodation
Temporary accommodation is also available on certain campuses and if you require a place to stay while you look for other accommodation, please contact UWS Village.
Off-campus accommodation
The Greater Western Sydney region has a vast range of affordable apartments and share housing. To help you in your search for accommodation close to UWS campus, the UWS Living Local site can assist you. At UWS Living Local you will find listings for a range of accommodation options from rooms to rent in share houses to vacant properties.

UWS Living Local Website:
www.uws.edu.au/living_local/accommodation

In order to rent private accommodation, you will be expected to pay a rental bond (usually four weeks' rent) as well as two weeks' rent in advance (if your rent is more than $300 per week, you will have to pay one month's rent in advance). Most houses and apartments are not furnished except for a stove and hot water heater. Make sure you carefully read and understand your rental agreement, before you sign it. If you need tenancy advice, contact the Office of Fair Trading or Tenancy Advice and Advocacy Services (TAAS).

MONEY AND BANKING

Opening a bank account
One of the first things you will need to do after you arrive in Sydney is to open an Australian bank account. Banks are generally open Monday to Thursday 9.30am – 4.00pm and Friday 9.30am – 5.00pm.

If you open a bank account in Australia within the first six weeks of your arrival, you will only need to present your passport to the bank to fulfil identification requirements. After six weeks, you will have to supply further identification.

Some banks offer accounts especially for students with fee-free facilities, meaning no account fees are charged. You will need to present your student card to open this type of account. Overseas bank drafts can take two to three weeks to clear, so make sure you have alternative means of obtaining cash in the first few weeks.

Once you have opened an account, you can access your money through an ATM at any time. To access your account through an ATM you need to have a plastic access card and your PIN. Follow the instructions at the ATM to withdraw cash. ATMs are located at banks and other locations, including supermarkets, shopping centres and on campus. You will be charged an additional fee when you use an ATM that does not belong to your bank.

Phone Banking allows you to access your bank account by phone. You will need to apply for access to this service from your bank, and you will be provided with a secure password and instructions on how to use phone banking. Phone banking is a convenient way to pay bills and transfer money between your accounts.

Internet Banking also needs to be arranged through your bank and allows you to access your account details via the Internet (password secured) and perform basic transactions online. You can check your account balance, pay bills, transfer funds or view account statements. You can even instruct the bank to change your account details (e.g. change of address).

BPAY is provided on application by your bank and allows you to pay bills (e.g. telephone, electricity, credit cards, university fees) by phone or by Internet. The bill/invoice you want to pay will provide you with the service provider’s BPAY biller code and an account reference number. This is a convenient and secure way to pay bills from home. You will have to register with your bank to have BPAY activated.

Electronic Funds Transfer at Point of Sale (EFTPOS) is available in many places. Instead of paying cash for goods and services, you swipe your plastic access card, enter your PIN and the amount of your purchase is automatically deducted from your bank account. Some outlets will also let you withdraw cash with purchases. There is often a $10 minimum on EFTPOS transactions.

Tax File Number (TFN)
If you intend to work in Australia, you will need to apply for a Tax File Number. Your bank will also ask you for a TFN, as this will reduce the amount of tax you pay on any interest earned on your bank account. You can apply for a TFN online. You will need to have a permanent address before you apply for a TFN.
TOP TEN HINTS TO SAVE MONEY

1. Before making purchases, think in terms of your needs and wants. Is it something you can do without? Can you get it another time?

2. Keep receipts for all purchases and money transactions to check against your bank statements.

3. Be aware of (and avoid if possible) the things that blow out the budget, such as a car, smoking, take-away food, alcohol and impulse buying.

4. Try to avoid having a credit card, as they create a debt that is very difficult to get rid of.

5. Buy furniture and clothes from “Opportunity Shops” such as those run by the Salvation Army, St Vincent de Paul and local churches.

6. Use a pre-paid mobile phone or a calling card and call overseas using a phone card.

7. Live close to frequent public transport and your campus and buy a weekly or monthly ticket or a TravelTen bus ticket.

8. Plan your weekly meals in advance and do food shopping only once each week. Search the Internet for cheap and easy recipes.

9. Carpooling saves you money by sharing the cost of fuel, tolls and parking. The more people in your carpool, the more everyone saves.

10. Buy second-hand textbooks from The University Store website.

Financial difficulties
If you are experiencing financial difficulties please see your campus Student Welfare Officer as early as possible. Please note the University is not a financial institution and does not offer any loan schemes to international students. However, the Student Welfare Service might be able to assist you in other ways. Textbook vouchers are available at the commencement of each session and are awarded on a needs basis. See details at: www.uws.edu.au/welfareservices

Automatic Teller Machine (ATM)
Locations on campus are:
Bankstown in Building 1 (near the cafeteria)
Campbelltown in Building 2
Hawkesbury in Building L2
Parramatta in Building EA (outside security office)
Penrith (Kingswood site) at Building K

PIN means ‘Personal Identification Number’
PHONE AND INTERNET

Telephone
If you are making an international call from Australia you have to dial 0011 + country code + area code + telephone number.

Pre-paid telephone cards offer competitive calling rates to all countries 24 hours per day. Pre-paid telephone cards cost $5, $10, $20 and $50 and may be purchased at most newsagencies, post offices and convenience stories.

Mobile phones
Before bringing your mobile phone to Australia, check with the Australian Communications and Media Authority www.acma.gov.au to make sure it can operate here. You may choose to buy your mobile phone within the cost of using that service. There are many differences to the services provided. You should understand what deal you are accepting before signing a contract with a provider.

A number of service providers offer a wide range of mobile phones and payment options, including pre-paid and post-paid. There are many differences to the services provided. Many students find it easier to buy a pre-paid plan; this will also help you keep track of your expenses. You should understand what deal you are accepting before signing a contract with a provider.

For comparison of mobile phone plans in Australia see: www.mobiles.com.au Pre-paid mobile phones can help you keep your phone costs under control.

Public payphones
Public payphones that accept coins can be found in airports, post offices, railway stations, shopping centres and in the centre of the city. Local calls are untimed. They cost 50c from a pay phone if you use coins. Long-distance and international calls are charged by the minute. Find a public payphone’s location using Payphone Locator search tool at http://envinsaonline.mapinfo.com.au/ppol

Home (fixed or landline) phones
You can rent a home phone from a telephone service provider in Australia. Calls from a home phone cost 25c for a local call. Interstate and international calls are timed and are usually charged by the minute.

Internet
When you are on a UWS campus, you can access free Wi-Fi using your smartphone or laptop with your student login and password. UWS Village also offers free internet access to all UWS students.

Many phone companies will also provide you with internet access. In fact, you may be able to make arrangements with a company where you can get cheaper rates if you have internet and mobile phones through the one service provider.

TRANSPORT

Getting to UWS campuses
Each time you travel to campus you can save money, improve your health, avoid parking hassles and reduce pollution simply by using public transport, cycling or walking. Specific information about getting to a UWS campus by car, train or bus is available at www.uws.edu.au/gettingtouni

Shuttle bus service
For the safety and convenience of students and staff, a free shuttle service operates on four UWS campuses. The frequency and hours of each service varies to meet changing demands throughout the year. For details, check out the website or use our GPS shuttle tracker to get up-to-date information on where the buses are at any time.

Find out more about us online at www.uwsconnect.com.au

Public transport
Sydney has a great transportation system and trains operate until 12am in metropolitan areas (buses are available later in the night). For late night travellers, make sure you sit in the train carriage that is nearest to the guard’s compartment, marked with a blue light. Train tickets are sold at railway stations either at ticket booths or by automatic ticket dispensing machines. Weekly or multiple trip tickets are usually cheaper. You will be fined if you travel on a train without a valid ticket.

If you want to travel with a bus, signal the driver by moving toward the approaching bus and raise your arm to stop the bus. If the bus approaching is not the one you wish to take, then stand back.

Alternatively, taxis operate throughout Sydney but are relatively expensive. Costs are calculated on a set rate per kilometre as displayed on a meter, with additional costs for luggage or phone bookings.

Reduced fare travel pass
Transport for NSW (TfNSW) has made reduced price MyMulti 2 and MyMulti 3 travel passes available to international students, providing better access to safe and affordable public transport options.

Private transport
Heavy fines are levied for breaking speed limits, dangerous driving, and for driving under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs. There are three basic safety measures for both drivers and pedestrians:

» Drivers must always keep to the left-hand-side of the road.

» Seat belts and child restraints must be worn by all vehicle occupants.

» Bicycle riders are expected to comply with normal traffic rules and the wearing of helmets is compulsory for both bicycle and motorcycle riders. Cycling is popular among students as a cheap and healthy form of transportation.
Drivers/ motorcycle riders licence
If you intend to drive a car or ride a motorcycle you must have a valid licence. Your licence must be carried with you at all times. You may drive on your home country licence for the first three months or on an international licence for the period of its validity. An Australian licence has your photo on it and can also serve as a useful form of identification. To obtain an Australian licence you must pass a driving/riding test. Before you start driving, check with Roads and Maritime Services to make sure you have a valid licence. As a visiting driver, you are not required to get a NSW Drivers Licence. However, while driving or riding, you must carry and hold a current overseas driver’s licence. If the licence is not written in English, a translation or International Driving Permit must also be carried.

Buying a car or motorcycle
If you are considering buying a new or second hand car or motorcycle please note that this can be expensive – you need to consider the costs of buying the vehicle, maintenance, running costs, insurance and warranty periods. For more information visit www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au

The law requires all vehicles to have Compulsory Third Party insurance (known as CTP or Green Slip) as part of the vehicle registration process. Every vehicle must be registered – it is against the law to drive an unregistered vehicle. Most second-hand cars are already registered, but the registration needs to be renewed each year.

You need to be aware of how to avoid buying a stolen vehicle and the various inspections, checks and other processes you’ll have to go through to register the vehicle. The Roads and Maritime Services (RMS) website www.rms.nsw.gov.au offers comprehensive information on this. You should also make sure the vehicle you purchase does not have any money owing by calling the Register of Encumbered Vehicles (REVS). For more information, visit www.revs.com.au

Parking on campus
UWS campuses are restricted parking areas. When on a UWS campus, you must park in accordance with the UWS Parking and Traffic Policy. This includes displaying a valid parking permit on the front windscreen of your vehicle and parking in the correct bay for your permit. To purchase parking permits and to learn more about parking, visit www.uws.edu.au/parking Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) is an insurance that provides cover for much of the costs of medical and hospital care for student visa holders while in Australia. You need to maintain OSHC throughout your stay in Australia.

OSHC by Allianz Global Assistance is the preferred provider for UWS. Be aware that while OSHC represents excellent value in health insurance, it does not cover every medical circumstance or cost. You should note the exclusions given in the policy document.

Collecting your OSHC card
During Orientation, we recommend that you visit the OSHC by Allianz Global Assistance booth if you have any questions about OSHC. To collect your OSHC card, you should register at the OSHC by Allianz Global Assistance website and your card should arrive at your Australian home address within a week or so. At Orientation there is most likely an opportunity for you to register online.

To register for your card, you’ll need:
» your full name
» your date of birth, and
» your UWS student ID number (this is the policy number).

You should receive your OSHC card to the address you supply within a week or so.

Accessing services and making a claim
Should you require medical attention you will have to pay for your medical treatment upfront unless your medical provider direct bills OSHC by Allianz Global Assistance. The OSHC Allianz website lists medical providers that bill directly to Allianz Global Assistance. The website also allows you to nominate medical providers for direct billing. If you have to pay, retain receipts for reimbursement. OSHC by Allianz Global Assistance staff visit some campuses each week to process claims or you can claim online via their website.

OSHC ALLIANZ GLOBAL ASSISTANCE

Phone: 1800 814 781
www.oshcallianzassistance.com.au
Medical treatment
If you are unwell you can go to a General Practitioner (GP) near you. The Allianz website https://www.oshcallianzassistance.com.au provides a list of doctors. You can see a GP in their private practice (office) or medical centre with part or all of the fee paid by OSHC. You need a referral letter from your GP for a specialist visit.

If your illness is more serious or the doctor is unsure of a diagnosis, she or he may refer you for further tests eg: blood tests or x-rays, or to see a specialist doctor. It is important to note that if you are dissatisfied with the diagnosis or service of the doctor you see, you have the right to obtain an opinion from another doctor.

Medical emergency
In case of a medical emergency you should call an ambulance by dialling 000 or go to your local hospital. There are Public Hospitals, which are operated by State/Territory Governments and Private Hospitals, which operate on a commercial basis.

Public hospitals
OSHC provides full cover in a shared ward in any Public Hospital, including treatment by your own doctor. The only amount you will have to pay is the difference (if any) between the OSHC benefit for medical services, and the actual fee charged. OSHC will cover all charges for outpatient medical treatment at a Public Hospital.

Private hospitals
OSHC provides benefits towards treatment and accommodation in a Private Hospital. However, some Private Hospitals charges are more than the benefit payable from OSHC. You will be responsible for paying the difference.

Pharmacies
GP surgeries do not have medications to dispense to you. You must take the prescription given to you by the doctor to a pharmacy or chemist to obtain the medication. You will need to provide the pharmacy with your OSHC card, your full name and address. You are able to walk in off the street to any pharmacy/chemist/drug store in Australia and will only have to wait a short while for your prescription medicine to be prepared.
Prescription medication
Medication prescribed by your doctor is not free. You must pay the pharmacy. If the cost is more than around AU$34.20 you can claim the difference back from your OSHC provider. Many pharmacists will offer you the option of having a “generic” brand of medicine. If the prescription medicine the doctor has prescribed is also made available by a company, which produces generic brands at cheaper prices, this option will be offered to you. This is ONLY offered if the content of the medicine is exactly the same as that prescribed by your doctor. It will, however, assist you to pay less for your medicine.

Over-the-counter medication
Pharmacies/chemists also provide a variety of over-the-counter medications useful for treating colds, headaches, allergies and the like, which do not require a prescription. Ask the pharmacist on duty for advice regarding the best medication for your symptoms. Ensure that you advise the pharmacist of any other medications you may be taking.

Lifeline
Anyone can call Lifeline on 13 11 14. The service offers a counselling service that respects everyone’s right to be heard, understood and cared for. They also provide information about other support services that are available in communities around Australia. Lifeline telephone counsellors are ready to talk and listen no matter how big or how small the problem might seem. They are trained to offer emotional support in times of crisis or when callers may be feeling low or in need of advice.  www.uws.edu.au/gethealthy/

Lifeline’s 13 11 14 service is staffed by trained volunteer telephone counsellors who are ready to take calls 24-hours a day, any day of the week from anywhere in Australia. These volunteers operate from Lifeline Centres in every State and Territory around Australia.

2. Cook at home and buy fresh food rather than tinned or processed.
3. Keep in touch with your friends and family.
4. Keep up to date with your studies.
5. Be safe while driving, crossing the street and at the beach.
6. Create opportunities for physical activity, e.g. ride a bike to uni.

8. You have paid for OSHC so use it. Don’t delay going to the doctor if you are feeling unwell. Make an appointment with a University counsellor (for free) if you are feeling unhappy.
9. Accept invitations to places or events where you will meet new people.
10. If you are feeling homesick, talk to someone else about how you feel – any new student will probably feel much the same as you do.
SAFETY AND SECURITY

Coming to a new country always presents uncertainties to new students, unfamiliar with risks to personal safety and the resources available to support and protect them. It is important to know that Australia and Western Sydney in general are safe destinations on a world scale (maybe that is part of why you came here!); but the need to be aware of risks and what to do in the unlikely event that you face real danger is the same as in your home country.

UWS campus safety and security
UWS Campus Safety and Security ensures a safe and secure environment for all students, staff and visitors.

24-hour security hotline 0414 240 458
Security can assist you in the following ways:
» 24/7 patrols of all UWS campuses
» security escort to or from your classroom, office, vehicle or on campus residence
» First Aid—in a First Aid emergency, call 0414 240 458 or internal extension 2300
» lost and found register on each campus.

Remember to do your bit by locking your car and securing your valuable items. You should report any accidents or injuries to UWS campus security by filling out the ‘Incident Report Form’, which can be found online at www.uws.edu.au/security

Any criminal incidents, such as theft, assault or property damage, as well as any suspicious activity should be reported to the police on the Police Assistance Line - 131 444.

Personal safety
Some tips on how to stay safe:
» always take care when walking at night
» be aware of your surroundings – try and walk with other people rather than by yourself
» walk along well-lit streets and main roads
» avoid long conversations on your mobile phone when walking at night
» when travelling, conceal all valuables, including your wallet or purse, phone and laptop
» don’t carry large amounts of money
» when using ATMs, be conscious of strangers nearby and put your cash away quickly
» when travelling by public transport at night:
  On a train: sit close to the guard’s compartment (indicated with a blue light)
  On a bus: sit close to the driver or other passengers
» always tell someone where you are going and when you expect to return
» be aware of your campus security services
» program the UWS campus security numbers and other emergency numbers into your mobile

Protecting yourself while travelling walking
» Look towards oncoming traffic before you cross the road, then look the other way, then look towards traffic again
» Never assume a driver has seen you or will stop
» Use the footpath. If you must walk on the road, walk facing traffic

Emergency numbers
Call 000 for ambulance, police and fire 24 hours a day.
Look for turning vehicles
Avoid crossing the road between vehicles
Never walk in front of a bus to cross the road
Use pedestrian crossings where available
Cross the road at traffic lights and ONLY cross the road when it is green (even if you see other people crossing when the light is red)
Wear light-coloured clothes

Biking
Always wear a helmet and ensure the strap is fastened
Follow road rules
Ride single file (one line)
Use a hand signal before turning
Ride at least a metre away from parked cars as doors can open unexpectedly
Do not ride with your iPod on – you need to listen to traffic.

Driving
Do not drink alcohol and then drive
Do not take drugs and then drive (also check prescription medication to see whether it will impair your ability to drive)
Follow the speed limit
Wear a seatbelt.

Protecting yourself while having fun swimming
Summer is a great time to be at the beach but it also offers risks to international students (yes, you!).

Follow these guidelines to make sure your day at the beach is one of many to come.
Swim at beaches patrolled by surf lifesavers
Swim between the red and yellow flags
Never swim alone and watch out for your friends
Don’t swim directly after eating
Don’t swim if you have been drinking alcohol or taking drugs

Ask a lifeguard about the surf conditions
Never dive headfirst in to the water
If you get in trouble in the water, stay calm, raise an arm to signal for help, float and wait for help
Don’t swim against a current, even if it is taking you farther from shore. Float, raise an arm and wait for help
If a friend is in trouble, do not try to save them yourself. Call a lifeguard for help.

Candles, oil burners and cigarettes
Candles, oil burners and cigarettes can all be dangerous fire hazards
DO NOT smoke in bed
Dampen cigarette butts before putting them in the rubbish
Make sure your candles are on properly designed candle holders
DO NOT leave your room when a candle or oil burner is alight
DO NOT put candles or oil burners near windows; be careful, curtains can catch fire easily.

Sun-safety
The sun in Australia is very strong and you can burn at any time of year, even if it is a cloudy day. The sun is strongest between 11am and 3pm. So, wear:
a hat
sunscreen on exposed skin
a shirt with sleeves and a high neckline sunglasses.

Other
Sydney is a city of over four million people and petty crime does occur; some students have had their bags snatched in the past or have been the victim of pickpockets. To combat this, walk with your handbag across your body and do not carry large amounts of cash, valuables, or your passport, around with you.

Keeping your visa safe – progression requirements

At UWS you are required to maintain satisfactory progress in your course.

At the end of Autumn and Spring session each year the University will review academic performance and alert students who may be performing unsatisfactorily. A student who passes less than 50% of the credit points attempted in any six-month period will be identified as being ‘at risk’ so that these students can receive advice and counselling on their study options.

At the end of each teaching session, a report is generated to assess those students who will be placed on ‘Conditional Enrolment’.

A student who passes less than 50% of credit points attempted in the assessment period will be placed on ‘Conditional Enrolment’ for the following 12-months and must enrol in a compulsory reduced academic load during this time. For an international student a reduced academic load is considered to be 30 credit points to comply with DIBP regulations.

A student who passes less than 50% of the enrolled credit points while on ‘Conditional Enrolment’ will be excluded from study at the University for a 12 month period. International students must return to their home country during this period and re-apply for admission to the University if they wish to resume study.

Failure to pass the same unit on three occasions will result in exclusion from the University based on unsatisfactory academic performance. A student who is placed on Conditional Enrolment or is excluded from the University for unsatisfactory performance has the right to appeal to the Appeals Committee of Academic Senate and to External Appeals such as the Ombudsman. Please note that appeals to

Keeping your visa safe – completion within the expected duration of the course – (Standard 9, National Code)
There is flexibility for UWS to vary a student’s enrolment load throughout the course. Students may take a normal, reduced or increased study load in each study period, and UWS will monitor the workload to ensure the student completes the course within the duration specified in the CoE. You may study up to 25% of your total course through online or distance learning.

Students enrolled in less than the normal full-time study load of 40 credit points in Autumn/1H, Spring/2H or 20 credit points in a Quarter teaching session because of academic reasons or extenuating circumstances, will be required to complete an application for “Reduced Study Load”.

It is your personal responsibility to ensure that you are correctly enrolled each session. You can review your enrolment details on MySR at any time. In addition, enrolled students receive written confirmation of their enrolment each session. Remember, it is your responsibility to check that the written confirmation is accurate.

EDUCATION SERVICES FOR OVERSEAS STUDENTS (ESOS)

The ESOS Act regulates the provision of education to overseas students in Australia. It covers the conduct of providers (universities, colleges, and schools), students and the various government departments involved. Its main purpose is to provide consumer protection for overseas students.

TUITION PROTECTION SERVICE (TPS)

From 1 July 2012, the Tuition Protection Service legislation further strengthens the financial protection of international students.

International Student Refund  www.uws.edu.au/international/refund
Student visas come with a number of conditions. It is IMPORTANT that you do not breach them. The main ones are:

» Satisfy attendance and course progression and attendance/participation requirements and maintain a valid enrolment for your course. If your progress is less than satisfactory, seek help from the various support services available and speak to your academics (teachers).

» Study enough units in each session to be able to finish in your visa period. If you are studying below a full load, make sure the University has approved your reduced load.

» Do not work more than 40 hours per fortnight.

» Maintain your Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) while in Australia. The Department of Immigration and Border Protection will require you to show OSHC for the duration of your student visa for any permanent residency (PR) application. UWS requires all international students to show proof of OSHC prior to enrolment being finalised in each year.

» Leave Australia before your visa expires.

» Remain with UWS for the first six months of the course for which you were given the visa. Important note: if you would like to make a request to transfer to another education provider, you must apply for a letter of release. Requests for transfers are not given automatic approval. UWS will assess your transfer request on an individual basis. www.uws.edu.au/esos/transfer » Advise UWS of your residential address within seven days of your arrival in Australia and advise UWS of any changes of address within seven days.

» If you have dependents under 18 years of age with you in Australia for more than three months, you must make sure they are enrolled in school.

There may be other conditions on your visa, depending on your personal circumstances. Find more information on the Department of Immigration and Border Protection’s website: www.immi.gov.au/students/visa-conditions-students.htm or ask your SEIS International Liaison Officer.

FREE MAGAZINE:
WWW.WEBCHILD.COM.AU

Sydney’s Child is a free magazine distributed through shopping malls, day care centres, libraries and baby stores. It contains a variety of useful information for parents.
International students may work 40 hours a fortnight during semester and full-time in vacations. Sometimes an employer may ask for a letter from the University confirming that you are on vacation and student central will provide you with this letter. UWS’s Careers and Cooperative Education Unit offers workshops which cover such topics as: Success at Job Interviews and One Stop Careers.

Jobs are advertised on CareerHub. www.uws.edu.au/community/in_the_community/careers/students/expos_events_and_workshops

Many international students choose to work part-time during their studies, but it is unrealistic to expect that you will find part-time work as soon as you begin looking for it. You will first need to become familiar with the city and the work areas where part-time employment is available. It is also important to understand your study obligations before you commit yourself to part-time work.

Post-study work arrangements
Once you complete your degree, you may be eligible to apply for a post-study work visa. A visa in this category may be granted for up to four depending on your qualification. For more information visit http://www.immi.gov.au/Visas/Pages/485.aspx

How to find a job
Many students like to find part-time work while they are studying. The following are some basic principles to give you a head start:

Start by registering with the CareerHub at www.uws.edu.au/careerhub and check the listings for casual and part-time jobs regularly. Also check the graduate positions, although these employers are more likely seeking people to work full time.

Disclose your visa status to employers and be prepared to show evidence of this.

Avoid exploitation!
Although most employers do the right thing, some may try to take advantage of the fact that you are a young person living in another country and that your first language might not be English. Most employers will treat you fairly. To ensure that you avoid bad work situations, you should be in a workplace that:

» Complies with Occupational Health and Safety legislation and standards,

» Provides appropriate information, training, instruction and supervision, provides a non-discriminatory and harassment-free environment, and » Ensures payment of appropriate wages.

If you are concerned about conditions in your workplace you may seek the advice of the Student Welfare Service. The Fair Work Ombudsman has a helpful website and advice for international students on Study your workplace rights!

Working 'Cash-in-hand'
Cash-in-hand work is common in many casual jobs. Cash-in-hand refers to an employment arrangement where the employer does not declare you as an employee to the Australian Taxation Office. Problems with getting paid cash in hand include:

» Not being covered by insurance if you are injured at work;
» You can be fined for not declaring income to the Australian Taxation Office;
» Your employer might attempt to avoid paying you full entitlements, such as sick leave;
» You might be paid below the minimum rate.

Tuition fees are due each session. The term ‘tuition fees’ refers to course fees paid by students for each unit in which they are enrolled. Please note that tuition fees do not include other expenses associated with university study such as books, equipment, accommodation and living expenses. Tuition fees are charged according to the approved fees schedule. In order to be properly enrolled in your program of study, you must pay your fees by the due date.

Important points to remember about fees
Your tuition fees must be paid by the census date of each session, at the latest.

» You can pay fees electronically using the University’s secure iPay system online at http://ipay.uws.edu.au (select Statement of Account Payments), by BPAY, by phone, at a post office or by mail (using a bank cheque). Refer to your Statement of Account for details.

» If you require a letter from the University to have your fees released from your home country, please make this request to Student Central well in advance of the census date of your fees.

» If you do not pay your fees by the census date, you are at risk of having your enrolment cancelled. If you are facing any difficulties regarding your payment of fees, you should consult your campus Student Central as early as possible to discuss the options you have to best preserve your enrolled status.

» Fee refunds are granted in accordance with the Refund Policy once a Refund Request Form has been lodged.

Enquiring about tuition fees
Enquiries about fees can be made by calling Enrolments 1300 668 370, emailing your enquiry to enrolments@uws.edu.au, or visiting Student Central.

Student fees account
As a commencing international student you would have already paid fees when you accepted your offer of admission to UWS.

Your next session’s Statement of Account will appear on MySR prior to commencing that session. Please ensure your address is correct in MySR and mark the payment census date in your calendar to assist you in planning and organising for funds from overseas to be made available in time.

All students beginning at UWS will undergo a period of adjustment. As an international student you will have to not only adjust to a new country, but to new learning and teaching methods as well. This section will provide information about the general academic system at UWS and help to prepare you for what to expect during your study.

To be successful at university, it is important that you:
» Understand what is required of you in terms of study and assessment tasks at your university.
» Attend all of your lectures, tutorial and examinations.
» Do not plagiarise.

Assessment tasks
Forms of assessments can include written assignments, oral presentations and exams.

Assignments are academic tasks that you have to submit to your lecturers or tutors to show your understanding and engagement with your subject.

To produce good assignments you should:
» Know your course outline, course objectives, important dates, and recommended readings (always seek clarification if you do not understand what you’ve been asked to do)
» Read the set readings (e.g. text book) as well as recommended references
» Write academically
» Manage your time well.

Lectures
Lectures will form a large part of your study at university. Some lectures will be held in larger lecture theatres with a large number of students, others will be in smaller surroundings.

You should try to take clear and concise notes rather than writing every word that the lecturer says. You can always compare notes with other students in your lecture, or ask the teachers themselves if you feel unsure about anything. Don’t be afraid to approach your lecturers for assistance – that is what they are there for.

You may have trouble understanding a lecturer’s accent or may find that some speak too quickly. Be patient, as you get used to the language, things will become easier. But also – don’t hesitate to ask your teacher to speak slowly.

Tutorials
Tutorials, or “tutes” as they are called, are another important part of academic life. You must attend your tutorials and you will have to register for them. (Note: some units have no tutorials.)

A tutorial is usually a period of class time that is in addition to the lecture. Sometimes it can be a laboratory or practical session. It consists of a tutor, who is a teacher and a small number of students (from 15 up to 35 students).

The tutorial time is spent in discussion or some problem-solving activities.

Your active participation shows that you are keen and interested in your subject, and it gives you great opportunities to discuss and debate issues and ask questions.

You must attend your tutorials because:
» They provide you with the opportunity to speak to a tutor or lecturer, which can be a good time to ask about course outlines and assignments.
» You will practise communicating your ideas by giving presentations.
» Tutorials provide very valuable training in the purposes and dynamics of formal discussion groups.
How to avoid plagiarism
The act of using the words or ideas of another person without acknowledgment is called plagiarism. Plagiarism is a kind of cheating and is considered a crime. If you hand in an assignment without acknowledging your sources, you are likely to fail and be asked to rewrite it. You may fail that unit or even be suspended from university.

Each School handbook also contains rules, policies and processes.

You can avoid plagiarism by using the accepted referencing technique. Referencing means acknowledging/citing in your writing the sources of your information and ideas. These sources may include books, journal or magazine articles, newspapers, company, government or institutional reports, websites or personal communication amongst others.

Why referencing is essential
Referencing is a way of showing recognition and respect for intellectual property. Your references show how widely you have read and indicate the quality of research and the sources that have influenced your thinking.

Academic support programs
To help and guide you in your understanding of academic requirements there are Student Learning Unit staff who provide academic preparation courses and literacy workshops. These services are free to all students.

Academic skills workshops
The Student Learning Unit offers a number of workshops on each campus throughout the year, covering topics such as:

- Essay Writing
- Referencing
- Essay structure
- Mathematics and statistics
- Nursing Maths
- Academic writing
- Developing writing skills
- Critical thinking
- Assignment Preparation
- Spoken English

REQUIREMENTS OF STUDYING AT UNI

Independent learning
At university, your learning is your responsibility. Teachers are there to help you understand what you have to study and give you feedback on your assessments. However, it is your responsibility to learn, understand and complete course and administration requirements.

Critical thinking and critical analysis
Critical thinking is breaking information into parts, comparing, questioning and evaluating it. When you learn to think critically, it means you can think rationally and objectively. Critical analysis is applying critical thinking so you can understand what you read or hear. It also means drawing links to other readings and lecture material. These skills are essential for writing effective assignments – showing your own position and argument while separating it from the evidence and references you use. More information and samples of student critical writing is available under ‘critical thinking’ in the online learning sections of the student learning unit (slu) website at www.uws.edu.au/slu

Know what’s expected from you – be prepared
Get all the information about your classes, weekly topics, assessments, and timelines yourself! Your unit outline and learning guide are very good sources of this information. Read them thoroughly and check marking criteria.

Engage with your topic – give yourself time to read, re-read, understand, discuss with others and think about it! Time management is an important skill to develop at university.

Tips to get the best from your lectures

Do not miss lectures!

Before the lecture: always read before the lecture to become familiar with the topic and terms, phrases and words (key vocabulary) used in your unit.

In the lecture: listen carefully; do not write everything but take selective notes about the important points.

After the lecture: revise your notes and/or handouts. Do further reading/research to fill in the gaps.

Participate actively in tutorials!

Before the tutorial: do some preparation, revise your lecture notes, do your weekly readings, have something to share, or a question to ask. You may be marked on your tutorial participation.

In the tutorial: try to join in the discussion, listen to others, and listen to the comments of other students and the answers the lecturers/tutors give. Your contribution to discussion may be assessed – check this!

After the tutorial: revise what you have learnt, do further reading/research to fill in the gaps.

Essay writing at university
Writing essays at university is different from school or Tafe. In a university essay you are expected:

» to present your position (thesis/argument in answer to the essay question and not only what others say. This means writing in your own voice (words) as much as possible

» structure your essay well – introduction, body, conclusion and well structured paragraphs using references

» write in an academic writing style: formal, grammatically correct and research-based produce a good essay, check the marking criteria, analyse the question, plan your research and reading and write in a clear and coherent manner. Make sure you have enough time to edit and proofread before handing in an assignment.

If you’re not sure what’s expected of you, check your unit outline or learning guide. You can also talk to your lecturer or tutor or find out about workshops that can help at www.uws.edu.au/skillsworkshops

Paragraphs in university writing
Structure: topic sentence, supporting statements, references, concluding sentence, flow in writing and linking phrases (first of all, such as, therefore, however, etc).

The topic sentence states the main thesis/topic of the paragraph and the rest of the sentences explain and/or elaborate (support) the main point. Evidence is in the form of other writers’ ideas (referenced) to support the main points and finally a concluding sentence indicating the writer’s argument on the topic or linking to the next paragraph is given.

Reading at university
Reading university text books and related material is a skill and is essential for researching and writing essays and assessments. Be selective about what you read, choose a relevant book or article and skim or scan read for the key information. Be an active reader, know why you’re reading, think about how it relates to the lecture or other material and take notes.

Be a selective reader
Select a relevant book/article to read then skim and/or scan, for example:

» look at the title, table of contents and index for specific information and key words

» quickly read through the preface or introduction and conclusion to get a general idea or read the abstract of a journal article.

Referencing at university
Referencing is acknowledging the sources you’ve read and used in an assignment. Details of how to reference should be in each unit outline. If you have questions, talk to your lecturer or tutor.

You must reference all assignments at university. If you don’t, you will be disciplined for plagiarism.

To avoid plagiarism:

» acknowledge (reference) everything that you borrow; ideas, words, music, images, tables, graphs

» always provide full references for sources you have consulted and used

» use the referencing system that your school prefers

» be consistent in your reference style.

The UWS library also has referencing guides online at library.uws.edu.au/citing.php

TIPS FOR A GOOD FIRST YEAR

Be bold
You have nothing to lose. Most students starting university don’t know anyone either. It’s worth saying ‘hello’ and starting a conversation because you might just make a new friend.

Ask questions
You’re expected to follow up on anything that you have questions about and UWS staff encourage students to do that. The Academic Course Advisor or Director of Academic Program can help you with choosing the right units to enrol in, assessments and any questions about your course. Student Central can help you with all non-course related questions.

Make the most of every opportunity
University life is not just about academic study and we want you to have the best experience possible.

Plan your time and be organised
University study is very independent and self-directed and that might be different to what you’re used to. Make sure you know the important dates that relate to you and set reminders for them.

Learn new skills
Aim to become more self-sufficient.

Set short, medium and long-term goals
Starting university study has many unknowns and setting goals of the things you want to achieve can help keep you motivated and give you a sense of certainty.

Stay up to date
‘Like’ the UWS Facebook page to see updates, follow @UWSstudentinfo on Twitter and keep up to date with uwsconnect Campus Life. It’s also worth getting involved with your Student Campus Council for updates on what’s happening around the University and your campus.

Manage your budget
Living and studying in Australia can be very expensive. The costs for food, transport, accommodation and socialising can easily get out of control. Be aware of how much money you have, how much you can spend per week/month/session and plan how to get the most value for your money.
Stay healthy
A healthy body is essential for a healthy mind. Why not join the connect fitness gym at a student discounted rate.

www.connectfitness.com.au
www.uws.edu.au/wellbeing_mentalhealth/wbmh

Manage your stress
An overly stressed mind is an inefficient mind. Take time out every day to unwind and relax mentally as well as physically. Make sure you have normal sleep patterns and do not miss sleep for work or study.

Explore the area
UWS has five main campuses in different areas of Western Sydney. These are vibrant areas with a range of recreational and entertainment options. Check the local newspaper or the council’s website to find out what’s happening in the community.

Check out the cultural and artistic life at UWS
There are regular art shows, theatre performances, museum exhibitions and events to celebrate cultural diversity. Check the UWS events calendar to find out what’s happening around campus.

www.uws.edu.au/uws_students/events

Understand UWS terminology
There are lots of terms you need to understand so make sure you check the online glossary.

www.uws.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/starting_out/step_8_prepare/glossary_of_terms

Know where to get help and don’t be afraid to ask
The University provides a wide range of services that are free for students to access.
Transition Success @ UWS
The Transition Success @ UWS program gives new students the opportunity to speak to a senior student about settling into university study and any problems they might be facing. Senior students are available in each campus library during the first week of session. They can help you with UWS systems, refer you to the services you need and provide directions. They’ll be wearing a bright green shirt that says ‘Ask us’ on the back.

The Transition team also try to call all new undergraduate students before census date each session (31 March for Autumn and 31 August for Spring). The call is to check in and see how you’re settling in to university life.

If you have a question about the Transition Success program, please email transition@uws.edu.au

MATES@UWS
MATES@UWS is a peer mentoring program. It’s all about connecting first year students with students who are in later years of study. This helps new students create social networks and gives them knowledge and skills to help them settle into life at university. The program runs for the first six weeks of each session.

Our objectives are to help new students by:
» providing an excellent source of information about the University and its resources by connecting them with a more experienced student who acts as a mentor
» reducing social isolation by introducing them to a small group of peers on their campus
» raising awareness of student services and resources available and how they can access them
» giving them a personal connection with UWS.

Whether you are a new student wanting to be matched with an experienced Mentor, or an experienced UWS student willing to help out, we want to hear from you!

For more information and to register your interest, visit www.uws.edu.au/mates or you can email mates@uws.edu.au

They are also provided with a friendly support network.

Student Representation and Participation
Student Representation and Participation at UWS is about getting involved, finding your voice and making it heard. The goal of student representation is to provide all UWS students with the opportunity and ability to be part of the UWS community and the decision-making process.

There are also opportunities for you to represent your peers at an academic level through the various university academic governance committees such as the Academic Senate.

Student Representation and Participation gives you the chance to get involved in something outside the lecture theatre and develop useful skills and experience.

Look out for R U OK Day on 11 September 2014 and Mental Health Month in October 2014.
It's also an opportunity to represent your fellow students and give a strong voice to student issues.

The SCCs and SRC are run by students for students and will listen to your concerns, whether it’s an issue with your course, access to resources on campus or an equity issue. We’d also love to talk to you about new ways we can engage with students to increase participation and democratic student input.

UNDERSTANDING AUSTRALIAN CULTURE AND LANGUAGE

Just as in any country, Australian language has a character, which reflects the culture of the people using the language. The language of the Australian people varies according to age, socioeconomic status, education and residential community and other factors.

It can be hard for an international student to adjust to the number of unfamiliar terms used by their student peers. These often include colloquialisms; common words that often don’t make it into the dictionary, but everyone knows. It includes slang and other words only found in the local dialect.

A number of people have tried to compile lists of these kinds of colloquialisms, and some of the best places to start tracking down these colloquialisms are via books or online resources. The online introductions can be great and really amusing, but they don’t always answer your queries about Australian terms. This can be because many of the lists focus on terms used by older speakers, and many of these words are not used by younger speakers. Instead, younger speakers tend to mix terms that are of non-Australian origin, especially from US and UK TV and film, and local terms. So you may hear an Australian version of a non-Australian colloquialism, which can be quite confusing.

It is not unusual for there to be a big range of accents and terms used among your local student peers. Similarly, there can be big differences between speakers on the basis of age, residential area and educational level. Finally, don’t be afraid to ask your lecturers and tutors what they mean if they use a term that you do not understand, especially if you hear it more than once. It is quite reasonable for you to have these words explained and it is also valuable for the lecturer to be aware of the effects of their language usage for students.

The decision to study in a foreign country involves many changes, which can be unexpectedly difficult to adjust to, for example, finding accommodation and suitable flat-mates, adjusting to new learning and social environments and dealing with the impact of missing family and friends. These social and practical adjustments can impede your ability to study effectively and have a negative impact on your life as an international student.

But don’t worry! Learning a new culture always takes time and includes being puzzled about why things happen the way they do, and making mistakes or wrong assumptions. Make the effort to connect to your peers and you might be amazed at how much easier the whole thing can become.

It is really important that you acknowledge any difficulties as early as possible and take action. Contact any one of the various support services that are there for you, and in particular, talk to your campus Student Welfare Services. Your international and local classmates can also be fantastic support for you.
