Multifaith Centres

A meeting place for people of various faiths and spiritualities
Everyone is welcome here

These spiritual places are grounded on the spiritual place of the Durug people, the traditional caretakers of this region. They are available for people of all faith traditions and none. They offer a safe place to meet, pray, reflect, meditate or simply take some time for yourself.

There are multifaith libraries to browse, chaplains to chat with, groups to connect with, religious festivals to celebrate together or space for private reflection.

Multifaith facilities are places where your inner life is respected and honoured.

Multifaith chaplaincy at UWS represents chaplains from various faith traditions working together to meet the pastoral and spiritual needs of students and staff at UWS.

Faith groups
Chaplains or representatives of various faith groups are available at UWS. Some of the faiths represented are as follows:
