Are you an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander?
Have you thought about going to uni?
Do you feel you may need some extra preparation?

Apply now to study a University Foundation Studies course at UWS College.

Students are able to choose from one of five specialisations of study:
• Arts (for students wishing to study Arts, Humanities, Social Science, Psychology, Education or Languages)
• Business
• Engineering
• Information and Communications Technology
• Health Science/ Nursing
• Science.

The specialisation you choose is your direct route to your preferred UWS bachelor’s degree.

Enquire today about FEE-HELP and scholarship opportunities available at UWS College.

To talk about your options and to get advice, contact Jeff Dunn, UWS College Indigenous Project Officer on 02 9852 4483 or email j.dunn@uws.edu.au
“UWS College acknowledges its respect for Indigenous people, knowledge and culture. It recognises that social and economic disadvantage continues to impact on the Indigenous community and as a response aspires to be a place that brings equity of access and inclusiveness as well as a place of excellence and quality in education for all Indigenous Australians.”

Wholly-owned by the University of Western Sydney (UWS), UWS College is the perfect bridge for students making the journey from secondary school to the high-quality degree programs at UWS.

The University Foundation Studies Program is designed to prepare students for university study, both academically and socially, by offering courses that are an introduction to the knowledge and skills needed for an undergraduate degree at UWS and for working life.

One of the advantages of studying at UWS College is the direct entry arrangement with UWS. After successfully completing the University Foundation Studies Program and meeting the entry requirements, you are guaranteed direct entry into first year of the corresponding undergraduate degree at UWS. Alternatively, this program also provides a pathway to the UWS College Diploma Program.